About The Conference

2007 marks the 20th anniversary of our annual conference. As an organization, we've developed and grown since our very first meeting in Madison, Wisconsin in 1987. In addition to traditional meeting activities, the 2007 meeting will include a retrospective of the last 20 years of our organization as well as a preview of our future.

We hope you will make a special effort to attend and participate in the 2007 conference. We also hope you will encourage your colleagues to consider membership and to attend the conference. After all, there is no better opportunity to learn about the latest advancements in sprays and atomization and to network with experts in industry, agriculture, biology, combustion, coating, depositions, and more.

The conference opens at 6:00 p.m. on May 15. Registration and a reception are followed by a panel discussion. Conference sessions are May 16, 17 and 18.

Papers and Posters

Paper abstracts are due December 22, 2006. If your paper is accepted, you must submit your final manuscript as a PDF file before March 19, 2007. Poster abstracts are due no later than April 3, 2007.

Social Event

The 2007 dinner banquet will be held at the historic Field Museum in downtown Chicago. You'll be able to tour many areas of the museum and dinner will be in close proximity to Sue, the world's largest, most complete, and most famous T.Rex. If desired, you can purchase extra banquet tickets when you register for the conference.

Conference Topics Covered

All aspects of atomization and spray processes will be covered, including:

- Instrumentation related to sprays for drop size, drop velocity and impact, drop concentration, patternation, film thickness, vapor concentration, etc.
- Modeling of flow phenomena inside and outside of atomizers, including CFD.
- Design, operation, and performance of liquid atomizers and spray systems.
- Transfer processes in which liquid sprays are used, such as spray reactors, dryers and humidifiers and spray applications like coating, combustion, fire suppression, agriculture, metal finishing and more.
